

THE LINEBAUGH LAW FIRM, P.C.

We're willing to put in 110 percent to get a better result for the client.

DAN LINEBAUGH HAS WORKED ON BOTH sides of personal injury suits and decided long ago that he would take the plaintiff's side.

After he won a defense verdict for an insurance company, he looked across the courtroom at the defeated and despondent plaintiff.

"That was a turning point," he recalls. "I decided I'd rather be David fighting Goliath."

Linebaugh has been named multiple times to the Super Lawyers® list. He is certified as a specialist in personal injury trial law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization and also is board-certified in civil trial law by the National Board of Trial Advocacy.

The firm's three attorneys provide representation in cases of personal injury, wrongful death, car, trucking and industrial accidents, petrochemical and pipeline explosions, dangerous products, railroad crossing accidents, traumatic brain injury, spinal cord injury, premises liability, vicious dog attacks and insurance claim denials. Cases are handled on a contingency-fee basis.

"We don't go for the quick and dirty settlement," Linebaugh says. "We're willing to put in 110 percent to get a better result for the client. People who get hurt shouldn't have to go through life injured, harmed and saddled with bills."

That dedication includes shoe leather. To better understand a client's case, attorneys frequently do field work, traveling to the scene of an incident to inspect physical evidence.

Clients should expect the best in technology. The firm uses animations, scaled models or medical illustrations to present cases, frequently testing demonstration models on focus groups and mock juries to assess how a jury in a real courtroom will receive them.

"It's our job to help the jury understand," Linebaugh says. "If you've got something very complex, the simpler you can make it, the better."

Also, count on the personal touch. Clients with questions will always get a prompt call back from their lawyer.

"We believe in open, meaningful conversation between attorney and client," he says. "We practice law the old-fashioned way."
